

Highs and lows...

We all have high and low days, this is totally normal. Everyone feels sad or upset or worries from time to time. It is good to tell someone about it.

If something didn't go quite right, write it down or draw it. Can you now think of reasons why things aren't so bad? Come up with some ideas of how to overcome your problems – write them down.

